Course and Slope Ratings Significantly Increased at Mystic Dunes Golf Club

CELEBRATION, FLORIDA – January 15, 2007: The word is out about the unique experience a golfer can have at Mystic Dunes Golf Club, located just minutes from Walt Disney World in the heart of the world's #1 vacation destination—and the USGA agrees! During recent certification, the USGA increased the course and slope ratings for the golf course.

With greens reminiscent of Augusta National and meticulous course conditioning, golfers are guaranteed superior playing conditions year-round. Rick Smith, Head Golf Pro at Mystic Dunes, is not surprised with the increase in ratings. "Since opening a few years ago, our landscape has had a chance to mature, offering golfers a truly unique experience on one of the area's most beautiful courses," stated Smith. "Recent enhancements to the course include the restructuring of bunkers and subtle changes in the areas surrounding the greens."

From the black tees, the men's course rating (a number used to measure the average score by a scratch golfer on the course) is now 75, up from 74.3. The slope rating (which describes the difficulty of a course for a bogey golfer) has increased from 137 to 145.

“We are pleased with the growth and maturity of the course since our first rating,” acknowledged Melissa Suttles, General Manager at Mystic Dunes Golf Club. “Although the slope rating did increase, the course is still a fair, yet challenging test for every player.”

According to Ken Hagamann, Director of Course Rating at the Florida State Golf Association, “the USGA process is to rate new courses three or four times in the first ten years.” Since the ratings are based on several factors, Hagamann is unable to give specifics on why the ratings went up. However, he said “changes in the USGA rating manual may have also played a part in the increase.”
